A gift has been given in your honor to support the ministry of North Carolina Council of Churches with Migrant Farmworkers

Many farmworkers' living and working conditions are dangerously inadequate in our state. They face extreme poverty, endure dangerous working conditions, and struggle to enter into an immigration system that has historically targeted immigrants of color. North Carolina Council of Churches focuses on advocating for legislation that enacts equitable and positive change for these neighbors.

A gift has been given in your honor to support the ministry of North Carolina Council of Churches with Migrant Farmworkers

Many farmworkers' living and working conditions are dangerously inadequate in our state. They face extreme poverty, endure dangerous working conditions, and struggle to enter into an immigration system that has historically targeted immigrants of color. North Carolina Council of Churches focuses on advocating for legislation that enacts equitable and positive change for these neighbors.